COUNTDOWN TO WA'S MOST IMPORTANT HOSPITALITY EXPO

The Australian Hotels Association (WA) has announced the State's only dedicated hospitality expo and conference will be held at Burswood Entertainment Complex on Tuesday and Wednesday , 1st and 2nd May 2012.

The Hospitality Conference and Expo 2012 has been structured to maximize owners' and staff time away from hospitality businesses by providing the opportunity to engage in a condensed and comprehensive educational program in the morning and in the afternoon all the newest sights, sounds and hospitality products will be on display.

AHA(WA) CEO, Bradley Woods, said the Hospitality Conference and Expo 2012 and will again set the benchmark for trade-only hospitality events in WA.

"Hospitality Conference and Expo 2012 is the most exciting and interactive way for business owners and their staff to experience the very latest innovations that are shaping the hotel and hospitality industry in WA through live demonstrations, product testing and face-to-face engagement with more than 100 suppliers of high quality hospitality products and services," Mr. Woods said.

"The two-day Hospitality Conference will feature some of the industry's pre-eminent experts, most important decision makers and most successful business operators presenting in an open and interactive forum."

"The theme of this year's conference and expo is Hospitality Unites. While hospitality businesses are competitors, they are united in their goal to offer the finest and most enjoyable experience for their patrons," said Mr. Woods.
